Orthopaedic surgery as it was, is and will be...

Brisbane Orthopaedic Surgeons Lawrie Malisano and John Radovanovic – the older and the younger respectively - will reflect on past practices, how change has evolved and what they anticipate the future holds in relation to surgical training, hospital practice, management of patient expectation and professional regulation.

Dr Lawrie Malisano is Brisbane born and bred and completed his primary medical degree at The University of Queensland and all post graduate training in Queensland. Subsequent surgical experience was attained in London, Germany and Canada. In addition to his private practice, Lawrie is a Senior Specialist RBWH, first vice-president of the Australian Orthopaedic Association (AOA), a Council Member of the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons in which capacity he chairs the RACS professional standards committee.

Dr John Radovanovic is Director of Orthopaedics at the Mater Hospital Brisbane and an active member of the Australian Orthopaedic Association. John attained his medical degree at the University of NSW in 1999 and his early surgical experience was in trauma-related orthopaedics in Sydney. He completed his advanced training in Queensland working at most major Brisbane hospitals, as well as the Cairns Base Hospital. Further specialist training was undertaken in the UK and Westmead Hospital in Sydney under the guidance of highly regarded orthopaedic surgeons, before returning to Brisbane.
